MEDIA RELEASE

DURO DESIGN DISRUPTORS WINS ARCHIBOO AWARDS UK FOR BEST PODCAST

New Delhi, November 25, 2025: Duroply Industries Limited is proud to announce that Duro Design Disruptors has been awarded the Archiboo Award 2025 in the Best Podcast category.

The Archiboo Awards, held annually in London, champion the powerful ways architecture is communicated worldwide. The jury commended the podcast "for its engaging, wide-ranging content and well-informed host," noting that it "is inspirational and a valuable part of the ongoing global conversation around sustainable development models."

Duro Design Disruptors shines the spotlight on 11 Indian practitioners — architects, designers, engineers, social workers, and more — dedicated to the service of the planet and its people.

"We at Duroply firmly believe that our actions today will shape our world tomorrow," says Akhilesh Chitlangia, Managing Director and CEO of Duroply Industries Limited. "As a strong advocate for sustainability, we conceived this visionary new podcast to uncover what sustainability truly means."

Produced in knowledge partnership with Epistle, the podcast explores sustainability beyond token gestures. Hosted and directed by Suneet Zishan Langar, Editorial Director at Epistle, it explores the subject through a broad, multi-layered lens and spans themes from ecology and decarbonisation to social equity, data, culture, and more, while highlighting fresh voices and different forms of practice.

By sharing the stories of these Disruptors and their alternative approaches to practice, the podcast aims to inspire young practitioners to pursue practices that are socially and environmentally responsible and yet financially viable.

About Duroply Industries Limited

<https://www.duroply.in/>

Duroply is India's premium and most experienced plywood manufacturer amongst the leading players. A 'Forest Friendly Company' with 68 years of rich legacy, Duroply focuses on customer-centric innovation to enhance the durability of customers' home and office interiors. It offers a wide range of plywood, block boards, doors, and decorative veneers, with industry-first features like a Lifetime Guarantee on most of its product range and the 10-foot 'Duro Plus' range. Duroply has clubbed together the nine most sought-after features by customers, setting the Gold Standard in the industry. With its YouTube Channel, "Duro TV", the organisation focuses on providing knowledge to its customers on choosing the right plywood. The company's latest value addition to its stakeholders is a podcast series, "Beyond Blueprints," which brings to life the design philosophy of interior designers and architects and helps customers give shape to their dream home.
